It's a go! No more holes

By Monika Dick
Local MLA Shirley Cripps had some welcome news for Drayton Valley council concerning the long-awaited paving program for 5th Street south, and some sharp criticism for the current timetable which could see the job halted problem carried into 1983.

Mrs. Cripps presented council with a cheque for $1,225 million at last week's meeting, and was told the town is already drawing on a $25,000 fund from Alberta Transportation to cover early expenditures for pipeline relocations and securing easements.

The paving schedule proposed by administrators will see the job done and will be taken care of by early May, with the project drawings to let for tender by the end of June. "We should see construction start soon," she said.

Time in August, and may look at doing it in stages if we can't finish it all," noted councillor Ken Rankins. "This will mean some work could be done in 1983."

But the 1983 deadline met with disapproval from other councillors and Mrs. Cripps. "I am appreciative the time it takes for advertising tenders and review," said councillor Charlie Miner, "but we're going to have a month of prime time on this when we could move the paving up sooner."

Mrs. Cripps said council has discussed upgrading 38th Street for two years, and "frankly I think you should attempt to get it in high gear and get these tenders in for June. The summer is the best time for paving construction," she noted.

The poor condition of 5th Street heading out of Drayton Valley is one issue which Mrs. Cripps labelled "a most irritating one for my constituents, and it's no laughing matter."

With construction moved up to this summer, she added, the town could perhaps take advantage of a low cost paving contract under the provincial government. "The contract for Cynabla on Highway 616 has gone to tender, and so will the one for the Moon Lake to Rocky Rapids stretch," Mrs. Cripps said. "If these companies are already in the area, it could benefit the town's paving plan."

Council agreed to look into speeding up the project if possible, to enable construction to be finished off this year. "If we face the fact where there's no construction this year, we could also be facing a 'bring ahead' machine Miner noted.

Police, SPCA seize starving ponies

By Suzanne Greenley
Charges of animal neglect are pending following an investigation and the seizure of 21 head of horses from the Cynabla area by SPCA and Drayton Valley RCMP last Saturday morning.

Local police said they have received complaints over the past few weeks concerning the horses. "Several people told them that the animals were not receiving proper care, prompting an investigation."

According to R.A. Howard, investigating SPCA officer, the animals were being neglected in that they were not being fed. "Since the seizure the animals have been housed at a local farm where they are being fed and cared for by vets which the horses have inspired during their stay there will be charged to the owner."

Mr. Howard went on to say that the horses are expected to be returned to the owner sometime this week. "He has feed in there now so we will be returning the horses to him," he said.

Mr. Howard added that if the animals were neglected again the SPCA would take them away for good.

Under the present laws the owner has the right to get his animals back if he provides proper feed or medical conditions, said Mr. Howard.

If these conditions cannot be met or the animals are not fit to be returned, then it is up to the SPCA officer to do something with the horses to him."

KC's set rummage sale

Disposing of those items which always appear during spring cleaning and are too good to throw away can often be a difficult task.

This year, however, the problem has been simplified for on May 15 the Knights of Columbus will be holding their annual rummage sale.

The proceeds from the rummage sale will go to the St. Anthony's School Library where they will be used for purchasing library books and equipment.

This will be the second year the sale has been held. Over $800 was raised during the 1981 rummage sale.

The sale will be held at the Woodland Chrysler sales from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on May 15.

Buy those cookies here on May 6th

By Suzanne Greenley
Over the years some foods have been almost synonymous with the season—Turkey at Thanksgiving, Christmas cakes during the Yuletide—and Girl Guide cookies throughout the spring months.

This year, the Drayton Valley Division, Girl Guides and Pathfinders will be holding their annual cookie day on May 6 beginning at 6:00 p.m.

According to the deputy area commissioner, Betty Johnson, who will be in charge, he will be selling in Drayton Valley as well as the Poplar Ridge and Country Hills trailer parks.

Any cookies which are left from Thursday's drive will be sold in the Derrick Mall on Saturday, said Mrs. Johnson.

The money from the cookie sales makes up the bulk of the group's operating funds and will be used for projects as well as badges and insignia for each unit, she said.

WCC talks revolution during local meeting

By Suzanne Groulx

Approximately 200 people were present last Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Drayton Valley Western Canada Council Party (WCC).

The meeting, held in the Legion hall, had guest speakers which included John Hunter, Drayton Valley president of the WCC; Jim Graham, vice director for the WCC; Winston Eggen, a local developer; and Andy Lee, a radio announcer.

According to Mr. Hunter, the WCC party is a people party and a new party, however, the issues it stands for are not new.

At present the platform of the WCC contains 10 basic points, said Jim Graham.

These points include one official language for the province as well as a senate which is elected by region. This will mean that each province will have the same number of senators.

The party also wants a fixed term of office for all elected representatives in the government.

Mr. Graham added that the WCC party would like the politicians to be subject to the right of recall at any level of government.

"We want a government responsible to the people, not people responsible to the government," he said.

Let's Elect Judges
The party is in favor of electing judges rather than the current system of appointments. According to Mr. Graham, the appointment system means that the balance of power for the judiciary currently lies in Ontario and Quebec.

The WCC wants irrevocable property rights for the individual along with the preservation of productive farmland.

Mr. Graham went on to say that the party advocates the freedom of the news media and the citizens' right to referendum on issues which affect society as a whole.

The party wants a simplified tax system and the return of the marketing boards to the producers. This would take the government out of the marketing boards.

Mr. Graham added that the last of the WCC issues is that Ottawa revised the national energy policy.

"If Ottawa agrees on any one of our 10 points then we will come back to the people and hold a referendum as to whether or not we will stay in Canada," he said.

Revolution, Western-Style
According to Winston Eggen, the motivation for the American revolution in 1776 was "no taxation without representation."

A problem which also faces Alberta today, for the west is alienated because of the lack of an elected senate in Canada, he said.

He went on to say that "change lies in the hands of those who must resist it—the east."

Let's Elect Judges
The party is in favor of electing judges rather than the current system of appointments. According to Mr. Graham, the appointment system means that the

Mr. Lee continued by saying that "WCC will fight for your rights, native rights, everyone's rights."

The WCC wants Alberta to gain political and financial independence within the boundaries of Canada, said Mr. Graham.

If the province is unable to be a part of confederation and have independence, then the WCC will go for political and geographical independence.

Cold frame ideal for veggies

If you have started flowers and/or vegetables in doors, you may find it worthwhile to build a cold frame for hardening them off before you transplant them into the garden.

A cold frame, as its name implies, does not require any artificial heat. The sun heats the soil during the day and the soil gives off the heat, at night to keep the plants warm. Because of its design, the sun hits the frame down on the sun for heat, a cold frame should always face south.

The standard size for a cold frame is 6 by 3 feet. If you need more room than this, you can join one or more cold frames together.

The first step is to dig the soil out of the proposed area to a depth of one foot. Then put about six inches of gravel or stones in the hole for drainage.

You build the frame or frames on this foundation using either boards or cement blocks. The sides of a cold frame should slope slightly (towards the south).

To prevent rain water from accumulating, and they should be heated with earth to keep the heat in and the soil moist.

There will be a joint kindergarten meeting for the 1981-82 and 1982-83 kindergartens parents on May 6 at 8 p.m. in the first room of the Breton Elementary School.

The purpose of this meeting is for this year's kindergartens parents to make previous plans and for the registration of next year's kindergarten students, plus the election of a local delivery committee for the 1982-83 term.

There will be a Mother's Day luncheon on May 7 from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Breton Elementary School. Anyone who is interested in becoming a part of the Breton Elementary parents advisory committee is asked to contact the school. This committee will be meeting in the near future to give advice on the selection, purchase and installation of playground equipment.

The application set on by the elementary school was a huge success. The money raised will be used by each class to purchase games, books, manipulative items and some library books so that most students will have the use of materials right in their own classroom.

A small amount of the money raised may be used to supplement the cost of class field trips. The six grades raised a total of about $900. The book sale had an excellent response. Two hundred and forty new books were added to the library as a result.

Deloris Rangel and Corinna Brownworth of the Breton Elementary School received an honorable mention at the Edmonton Regional Science Fair held in Edmonton on March 17. The girls' volcano project was (Continued on page 19)

Their project was one of five Breton entries in the regional fair. Brenda Mitchell, Lynn Chutwood, Terrence LeComere, Robert Scherman and April Harris also attended the dinner and leaving held April 18 at M.E. LaRosa High School in Edmonton.

The students were driven by Mr. Brownworth and Mr. Morkenman, and stayed overnight with friends or relatives.

The next day, 16 members of the Breton Elementary

Science Club met with the fair entrance for lunch provided by the club, then went to M.E. LaRosa where the competitors showed their projects to the Breton students and many other visitors.

The Edmonton Regional Science Fair has been held annually for 25 years and is the highest level of competition for elementary school students. This is the third year the Breton Science Club has had entries in the regional fair.

Several Breton Elementary students travelled to Edmonton April 21 to see the women. The children seemed to really enjoy the trip.

It was a busy week at the Drayton Centre, as the chess game on April 19, Bertha and Robert Elliott were the high scorers and Peggy and Billy Rose were low. The library donated two bookends and two advance-ees to the Drayton Centre and none of the new moved these Wednesday afternoon.

Paul Takasovics was the checker tournament. Thursday morning, there were two tables of bridge in the playoffs and Peggy and Bill Rose came out winners.

In the regular whine game that carried on at the same time, Hilda Rand was high score and Sarah Joy Lee-Mey's high went to Herb Lange and low to Lewis Davidson.

In the darts tournament on Friday there were two tables' teams and two men's entered. In the best two out of three, Olive Jensen's team won, and Albert Jensen's team was low in a row.

The floor curling playoffs will start at 9 a.m. April 30. Anyone over 55 is eligible, no more out and get it a try.

Four teams of bowlers will be heading for Red Deer for a Tuesday tournament on Thursday morning. Our efforts will finish Tuesday morning here. Bowlers of the week this week were Hilda Rand and Fred Chertogian.

Gordon McFadyen will be showing films of his trip to Africa on May 5 at 2 p.m.

The bowling playoffs for the Senior Games will start at 9 a.m. May 5 at the Twilight Bowl.

Saving face

I finally learn the correct way to apply make-up only to learn that there is now a newer way. As the most recent make-up consultation I was told that new, instead of blue circles around the eyes, I am to apply red or brown eyeliner to make black rings above the upper and lower eyelids and above the lower eyelids.

I looked at the price of the consultation, then decided I could do without it when my older woman, with a smooth face, stated, "I use only facial oil."

For longer lasting makeup, the facial exercises. The following are should be done daily.

• Using four fingers, stroke the middle of the forehead into the hairline.

• Circle the eye with the index finger 10 times in each direction.

• Using three fingers, stroke from the nose ridge straight back over the cheek bones into the hairline.

• Using two fingers, stroke from the middle of the upper lip up to the hairline.

• With three fingers, stroke from the middle of the chin along the jawline to the ears.

• Make a large O with the mouth.

• Using right fingers, push up on the forehead at the same time pushing against the fingers with the muscles of the forehead.

• Using the palms of the hands, stroke from the middle of the chin along the jawline to the hairline.

• Place the palms on the side of the forehead, above and to the side of the eyes. Move the palms back and forth, up and down.

• Using the first finger of each hand, go under the chin, stretching first downward, then upward.

• Put the thumb inside the mouth, and stroke downward with the finger to help vertical lines on the upper lip.

• Put the first finger of each hand inside the sides of the mouth, and using the thumb, stroke towards the mouth.

• Fill the mouth with air, and push the air from one cheek to another.

• Alternately blow the cheeks out and suck the cheeks in.

Home's a good place for free room and board

By Jeanne Benger
One of the best things about our recent economy is that it makes children a lot less eager to cut the ties with home. Home is where you can get free room and board while working at a summer job.

The boy returned home when the university term ended. He didn't get any of the faraway 100-an-hour jobs he'd applied for.

"Don't worry," I said. "You have two jobs to choose from locally."

"Yes, at five dollars an hour or so," he said sadly. Still, a job is a job these days.

"How did you make out at university?" his father asked. The boy brought out a little bag, and he pulled out two medals—one silver and one bronze—from the Home Indoor Track and Field Meet in Montana. Then he reached in and brought out his university letter—a large yellow L with a blue bar across it and he said proudly, "I earned my letter this year."

He reached in again and brought out the best proof he'd done well—a wooden plaque that says, "Benny Benger—Outstanding Athlete of the U of L Track and Field Team."

"You earned your scholarship," I said happily, but his father wasn't satisfied. "Is," he said. "You don't go there to run. You're supposed to be learning to be a dentist, aren't you?"

"Yes, but they're making my marks," said the boy. His teeth told me he'd estimate a point strike.

"I took a computer course," the boy informed us next. He got out a book that felt like an encyclopedia and is full of strange looking jargon like "The Expanse Command" and "Hustling" and all sorts of confusing directions.

To go with it he has a plastic thing that looks like a template for making Burger-Doll sand quilts.

Each shape has a name. However, The rectangle is "Fruens" and the diamond is "Detention." The triangle that points downward is "Mama" and the one that points upward is "Detritus."

"I think I am too old to understand this," said. "I will only understand movies."

"You should use a slide rule this," said the boy, rummaging in his bag and coming up with one.

"I think I am too old to understand this funny ruler," said.

"I don't see how all this will help you pull teeth," said my man. "Didn't you learn anything practical?"

The boy then brought out his psychology text.

"We analyzed you both," he said. "And, you are so orderly, obedient, and strong that you have to be an anal character. You must have had a lot of trouble with your mother during toilet training."

His father looked upset. "I am not a snob, and I don't see how this will help you become a dentist."

"And what did you discover the words of my personality?" I asked.

"Oh," said the boy. "How do you feel about right frontal brain damage?"

"Does that affect her teeth?" his father asked.

The boy didn't answer. He was "Sleep-beep."

keep-beep."
"You've been computerized," I said to me.

"No," said the boy. "It's the alarm watch my girlfriend gave me for my birthday."

We looked at it. "It's nice watch," said his father. "Are you planning to get married?"

"No, until I'm twenty-five," said the boy.

"Yes, and at 25, you can start saying, 'Not until I'm 30,'" his father said.

"The way you guys are planning things, the number of the groom will be lucky if she is still capable of standing in the receiving line," I complained.

But I was happy. The boy is home and the house is complete again.

Plant will provide jobs

By Shirley Cripps
Much has been written about the economic downturn in the province of Alberta. I would like to mention some positive people who will be of major economic benefit to the Drayton Valley community.

On Feb. 15 Edmonton Power officially turned the not for its proposed Grouse power plant. This momentous occasion passed almost unnoticed. From the point of view of the 500,000-plus citizens of Edmonton, Grouse will provide a reliable supply of economic power.

It will reduce their almost total dependence on high priced natural gas generated electricity.

The Grouse project will provide employment for the next 25 years. A project of this size requires an enormous amount of pre-construction planning involving many important environmental and geological studies.

Redundant, environmental and geotechnical studies must be determined.

Another major construction project which will offer immediate employment is the Drayton Valley Hospital which is estimated at approximately $14 million. The tenders are being opened this week. The new hospital will permanently employ 120 people—double today's staff.

I also understand that construction of Hudson's Bay's West Pembina gas plant will begin in the early winter of 1982-83. This $100 million plant will employ 300 construction workers and is expected to have a permanent staff of 50 when it opens in the spring of 1984.

Since the House is in session I will not be in my office in Drayton Valley on Monday during the month of April. The offer will be open on Monday and Wednesday, however, please call 542-2355.

You can reach me in my legislative office in Edmonton by calling 437-1843 or by calling 437-1843 on Monday during the week or 437-2758 at home, collect on weekends. Correspondence should be sent to: House 50, Legislative Building, Edmonton, Alberta T6K 2B6.

Lodgepole salutes spring

By Matt MacDonald
Grade 1
The birds come back and make their nests.
Baby animals are born in spring.
Leaves come out on the trees.
Hills are covered with snow.
The birds sing and make noise.
We become happy to go to school.
In spring we go for walks and go fishing.
We go swimming too.

The snow goes and flowers will grow

By Eric Dille
Grade 2
The snow will go.
Flowers grow.
Birds sing.
In the spring.
We plant the seeds.
Watch out for a mouse!
Animals come out.
Bitterflies are about.
People go to the store.
Spring made plans.
Perhaps a shovel or a hoe.
Soon there will be grass to mow.
Spring is here! Spring is here!
A happy season of the year.

Frogs crawl under logs....

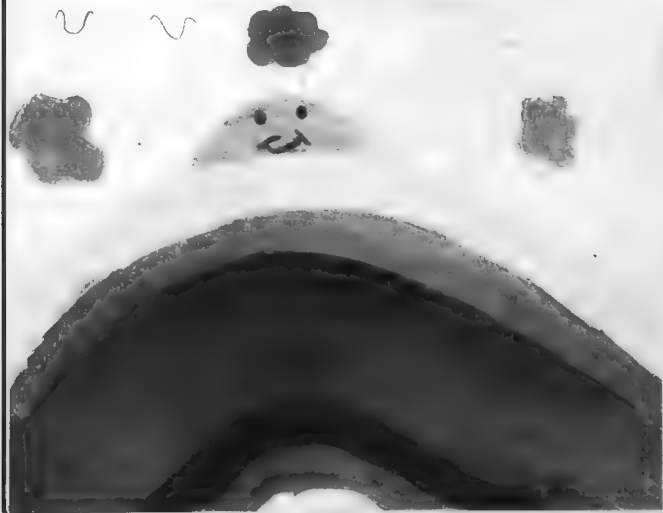

By Michael Baker
Grade 3
In the spring
We hear birds sing.
Frogs crawl under logs.
There come out of their winter sleep.
Baby birds soon will chirp.
It's time for snow to go.
We hear birds sing and blow.
It's a time to plant seeds.
Then we put up the weeds.
It's a happy time of year.
When springtime is here
...and birds will come back to sing.

By Angela Grooms
Grade 3
Birds fly about.
When the sun comes out.
Bitterflies sit on flowers.
Frogs sing for hours.
The snow melts away.
We plant gardens in May.
Leaves come out on the trees.
Soon we hear humming of bees.
Animals wander around.
Green grass grows on the ground.
We welcome the return of spring.
With birds, animals, flowers and everything.

We clean the lawn or cut the weeds

By Michael Baker
Grade 3
In spring we ride our bikes.
Go on a picnic or take a hike.
We clean up the lawn.
Or cut the weeds.
We plant a garden with many seeds.
Many flowers are coming out.
Insects, animals and birds are about.
The snow melts away.
The birds begin to lay.
Spring is a special time of year.
We see the return of the animals here.

More on ADC loans

By Doug Wilby
542-5368

For a beginning farmer to be successful, the response would normally expect an applicant to have one or more of the following kinds of experience and training:

- One or more years of practical farming experience.

- certification under the Great Certificate Program;
- two years of education in an agriculture related field, and a suitable working arrangement guaranteeing effective farm management will be available.

In assessing management ability, analysis of the applicant's spouse's ability will be included.

Loans may be obtained for up to 10 years.

The corporation, in some repayment ability, will include margin for risk, uncertainty and development.

Conditions of the Beginning Farmer Program are:

- the applicant has not previously been farming a viable farm unit and is not presently farming a viable farm unit;
- the applicant is willing to accept counselling and training as deemed necessary by the corporation.

- capital purchases restrictions will be imposed on all applicants;
- a recognized record keeping system must be established; and reports must be provided upon the corporation's request;
- a plan must be included with all applications to indicate how development will take place. Under the staged option, the Stage 1 plan must indicate how Stage 1 funds will be used. However, at the time of Stage 1 application, the original plan may be changed provided it does not harm a viable farm unit remains evident.
- a beginning farmer is allowed to have off-farm income over an extended period of time as long as it enhances, rather than detracts from the development of the farm, and it appears that the beginning farmer can effectively manage his resources in order to achieve a good return.

Effective April 1, 1981, an earned incentive calculated as 10 per cent of the original principle balance will be paid annually for a term of five years. If the applicant complies with the terms and conditions noted above.

Solving scour problems

By Dr. T.R. Lockman
Baby pig scour, like milk scour, results in heavy losses of baby pigs. The type of scour visible today is not the first 30 days of life are caused by E. coli, as the problem is far to find the scourage that would protect baby pigs against all the different types of E. coli bacteria.

The new breakthrough is the identification of 13 types that will protect the baby pigs against all other E. coli bacteria. There is now a vaccine available with these 13 antigen type bacteria, that would help control the seasonal scour problem.

This new vaccine is a killed vaccine. The vaccination at six weeks and a second shot two weeks before farrowing. The baby pigs are immunized through the mother's milk.

This method prevents 87 to 99 per cent of the baby pig scour.
